

Help Yourself To Community Funding

Community groups looking to set up projects which will involve young people can apply for funding thanks to British Gas and Save the Children.

The two organisations are jointly responsible for a scheme, known as Help Yourself, which aims to promote youth involvement in community projects.

Awards of £1,000, £5,000 and £10,000 will be given during 2008 for projects that focus on improving children's and young people's life chances in areas such as education, employment and self confidence.
